

How to find co-operation and funding opportunities in global development networks?

Guidelines for education experts and organizations looking for business or work opportunities in education development projects.

1. Prepare your expert CV

An updated and well-structured CV is a key element in finding business and job opportunities in the global education development market.

2. Explore and join education development expert databases

Explore the databases and fill in your CV in an interesting database. Don't forget to modify your CV accordingly.

3. Explore project opportunities for education organisations & innovators

Many of the co-operation project opportunities are listed in international project databases. On our website we have collected a few tips for you so you can start exploring.

4. Explore funding opportunities for education organisations & innovators

There are many development funding opportunities available around the world. You can explore available funding for your education expertise project plan on our website.

5. Study more about opportunities in expanding in developing countries

Our website is a great place to start! We offer more information on how to begin studying more about different organisations providing opportunities to expand or invest in developing countries.

6. Study country specific information

It is very important to know your destination well. Get to know your target country.

7. Create an expert pool in your own organisation

Identify persons who are interested and capable of participating in international projects as an expert, a teacher, a trainer or in another possible role. Recognise the special skills needed in international projects. Encourage staff to update their skill profiles and international CV.

We hope these collected guidelines are useful for education experts and organizations looking for business or work opportunities in education development projects.
